Detroit, which, he said, had been described by Dr. Johnson and Elder Cutchings as bearing directly upon the Briggs case, had been found, upon examination, to contain no reference whatever to any special case likely to come before the assembly, but referred wholly to proposed changes in the standards of the church. He, therefore, recommended that the former recommendation of the committee be adhered to, and the two covertors sent to the committee on the two overtures sent to the committee on

The matter was debated with spirit for ome time. Finally it was moved that copies of the overtures be sent to the judicial committee for their information, and that the originals be sent to the committee on church polity. This did not meet with the approval of either side. Every body wanted a vote on the amendment, and when Dr. Charies H. Booth, of New York, arose and stepped to the front he was met with a desfening demand for the question. The distinguished divine calmiy waived aside the demonstration, and, when it had quiet-ed down, shouted: "If you were to call for the question for an hour you could not put me down; I am from New York." Briefly, then, he stated that he was opposed to the amendment for the reason that it intro-duced the element of popular clamor into the proceedings of a deliberative body.

After further discussion by Prof. Brown, of Union Seminary, and Elder Cutchings, of Detroit, the amendment was lost, and the overtures were sent to the committee on church polity by a vote that met with practically no opposition from the Briggs men. A recess was taken at noon, during which the commissioners proceeded in a body to the south plaza of the State, War and Navy Building and were there photographed in a group.

At the atternoon session, the report of the committee on Sabbath observance coming up for consideration, President Warfield, of Lafayette College, proposed an additional recommendation that the third Sunday in June be set apart as a day when sermons shall be preached in all the churches and prayers be offered in behalf of the effort to keep the gates of the fair closed. Rev. McCauley, of Dayton, offered snother addition, to-wit: That in case the Sunday-closing rule be violated the exhibit of the Presbyterian Church be removed. The several recommendations, to-gether with those of Messrs. Warfield and McCanley, were considered seriatim and

The report of the committee on education was presented by Rev. Thomas D. Ewing. Corning, Ia. It commended the work of the board, and asked the assembly to give it $150,000 for the work of next year. The present debt of the board is $600. Elder Davis Jacks, of Monterey. Cal., said that he would give $100 toward wiping out the debt, and that if a suitable man were secured to talk money out of men's pockets for the education of young men, instead of $1,000 a year from Captain Jacks, the cause might get from $25,000 to $40,000, and that he would pay $1,000 a year toward paying the right man. [More applause.] The recommendations of the committee were adopted. An overture from the Presbytery of St. Clairsville, asking that the Board of Education lend money to candidates who prefer to borrow rather than accept a gift, was reported to the assembly by a committee with a favorable recommendation, the maximum amount to be so loaned to be fixed at $150 per annum. The recommendation was adopted. Reformed Presbyteriaus.

NEW YORK, May 22.-The General Sypod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church reconvened this morning. The committee on federation laid before the delegates the proposed scheme for federation with other Presbyterian sects, which is being very generally considered by Presbyterian synods throughout the country. Action was deferred. Resolutions were adopted to the sfloct that no church funds be hereafter invested in stocks which cause unnecessary work on Sunday, such as railroad securities and many others; making it incumwere represented by the synod to withhold their patronage from the world's fair if opened on Sunday, and condemning the enlorcement of the Geary act, first, on the ound that it discriminates against some oreigners who "are no less desirable than many others, either as citizens or residents: and, secondly, on the ground that it will cause retaliation and the hindrance of Christian missionary work.

Cumberland Presbyterlans. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 22 .- The Cumberland Presbyterian General Assembly consumed a great deal of time to-day in considering the question of consolidating the boards of education and ministerial relief. The committee on missions recommended that the board of missions at once for five men to go Japan as missionaries. It spoke hopefully of the work in Mexico and Indian Territory. The report recommended that the board of missions enter as soon as possible the territory of Indo-China, which is under French control and has twenty million inhabitants and no Protestant missionary. It provided for making permanent the missionary rallying day preceding each assembly. Active and immediate work for the welfare of the colored people was urged.

Southern Assembly. Macon, Ga., May 22,-The fourth day's session of the Southern Presbyterian Assembly was full of argument but productive of very little. A memorial from the Chinese of the New Orleans mission, asking the assembly to use its influence in having the "Geary act" repealed, was read and referred to the committee on foreign missions. The report of the committee accepting the Widows' and Orphans' Home. at Fredericksburg, and forming a perpetual board for its government, was adopted. The home is presented complete, with $10,-000 cash. Nashville was chosen as the next place of meeting.

OFFICIAL DUNKARD DELEGATES. Elder Moomaw, of Bonsack's, Va., Addressed the Crowd Yesterday.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal, MUNCIE, Ind., May 22.-Hundreds of brethren arrived on every incoming train to-day. They were principally delegates - attend the business session, which will begin to-morrow morning. The indications now are that the next meeting will go to Johnstown, Pa. The crowd at the grounds to-day numbered about ten thousand. This afternoon several hundred curious citizens attended. The 10 o'clock preaching this morning was conducted by Elder B. F. Moomaw, of Bonsack's Va. - This afternoon, at 1 o'clock, a special song and speaking meeting was held. At 3 o'clock the foreign missionary meeting took place. The following subjects were discussed: "The Present Missionary Field," by J. B. Brumbaugh; "Best Method of Cultivating the Field, and How to Get the Means and the Workers," by lease Frantz. By special request D. F. Miller, of Mt. Morris, Ill., repeated his lecture on Egypt, as delivered yesterday, to the table waiters in the dining ball. Elder Miller recently returned from at extended tour of the Bible lands. and his lecture was a recital of some of the nteresting scenes witnessed on the trip. He pretaced his remarks by saying he was accompanied by Elder J. C. Lahman, of Mt. Morris, Ill., and they sailed last November, going direct to Genoa, Italy. He spoke of the trip up the river Nile into the and of Ethiopia, saying: "Outside of the world is so rich in history as Egypt. On the banks of the Nile the people deand family journeyed to Egypt to dwell; Abraham lived there also. The child Christ was carried into Egypt and the life of the Savior of the world saved in this land so rich in historic lore."

PROOFS FROM EGYPT. The speaker then referred to the many proofs of the truthfulness of the Bible found in the land of Egypt. He spoke of cities recently discovered in Egypt that were built by the children of Israel during their oppression, and that many things spoken of in the Bible were found in these ancient cities. Said he: "I saw, while on a visit to these cities, men engaged in brickmaking. The same custom of making brick that prevailed three thousand years ago are in vogue to-day. Pharaob, during the days of the oppression of the children of Israel, compelled them to make bricks without straw, and in these strange cities are found bricks without straw, which is an evidence that they were made by the children of Israel. These things speak in voices positive that the word of God as found in the Bible is true.

The river Nile was worshiped by the people of Egypt. There was no fountain of water, no well or spring in the land, except the Nile. In seasons when the Nile overflowed there were good crops, and when it did not there were none. It is the only source of water supply in the country and was regarded with reverence by the people. Where the river Nile emptied into the Mediterranean sea it flowed out through seven channels. In the Bible we read where the prophet says: 'I will raise my hand over the river and it will dry up, and the people will pass dry shod.' When the people heard this they said the prophet did not know what he was talking about. But I found on visiting the scenes that the river has an outlet through only two channels. The prophecy has been fulfilled, and the people pass over dry shod." He spoke of a great many prophecies in the Bible that had been fulfilled, evidences of which he saw on his trip.
He also spoke of seeing the body of Pharaob, which was discovered in one of the ancient cities, and when he gazed on the body of that historic individual he was impressed with the terrible lesson that all in this world is vanity. The electric street-railway registers show that nearly thirty thousand people were carried to the grounds Sunday. BAPTIST HOME MISSIONS. Opens at Denver.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. DENVER, Col., May 22.-The sixteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Home Mission Society began here this morning. The address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. F. F. Smith, vice president for Colorado. The response was made by Mrs. J. H. Crouse, who made the annual address of the president, taking as her theme the late woman's congress, which she attended on her way to Denver.

Miss M. G. Burdette, the corresponding secretary, gave an interesting report, showing the condition of the Baptist work for the year closing March 31, 1893. There were reported for the year ending March 31, 1893, 1,838 branches, approximating 46,000 members, 481 mission bands, with an approximate membership of 4,000, while 171 boys and girls were enrolled as missionary gardeners, and the baby band registered 2.(Gi little folks.

The report of the treasurer was given by Miss K. F. Taylor, which showed that the actual receipts for the year were $61,709.81 but, including all balances from the previous year, the money aggregates $67,079.60. The total amount of disbursements were $63,-350. In all departments the books show small balances. At the evening session Rev. P. S. Hinson discussed missionary training schools and Mrs. M. A. Ehlers spoke on "Missionary Training for Colored Women."

Will Withdraw Their Exhibits. NEW YORK, May 22.-The Methodist preachers of New York, Brooklyn and vicinity, at their regular meeting to-day, resolved to withdraw the Methodist exhibit from the world's tair, because of the proposed Sunday opening. The resolution to that effect, which was presented by the Rev. Dr. B. F. Landon, and passed unanimously a week ago, was to-day confirmed and a clause added to it instructing the agents of tht Methodist Book Concern at Chicago to act in the premises as soon as the doors of the world's fair are thrown open on Sundays.

Anti-Trust Law Decision. NEW YORK, May 22-Judge Coxe, sitting in the United States Circuit Court, to-day handed down a decision in a suit brought under the Sherman anti-trust law. He sustained the demurrer in the suit of the Dueber Watch-case Manufacturing Company against the Howard Watch and Clock Company and thirteen other manufacturers of watch cases for $150,000 damages. The complaint declared that the Dueber company refused to join the combination to keep up the price of watch cases, and the fourteen members sent out circulars to dealers saying that if they bought goods from the complainant, they, the defendants, would sell them

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING. Mrs. Perry Nolan Shot by an Unknown Person, Said to Be a Tramp.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. DANVILLE, Ind., May 22.—Saturday after noon Mrs. Perry Nolan was shot while asleep, at her home, four miles from town. There are no witnesses to the affair, but a boy, who claims he heard the noise, rushed to the house and saw a tramp going out the back door. He found the wounded woman, who did not realize she was shot. The bullet struck in the temporal region of the brain and lodged in the skull. A posse was organized and the country searched, but no tramp was found. This morning a stranger was arrested near the scene of the shooting and brought to town. The boy was brought in, and not allowed to see the man until he had given a description which fitted the stranger arrested. The prisoner was then seated in the court room among two hundred others, and the boy was asked to point him out, which he very easily did. The man gave his name as William Brown, and said he was a soldier in the One-hundred-and-tenth New York Regiment and in the First Louisiana Cavalry, and later had been in the Eighteenth and Ninth regiments of the regular army. He said he was recently an inmate of the Marion Soldiers' Home. He said he tramped out from Indianapolis, leaving there Saturday noon, and if his story be true he was twelve miles away from the scene of the shooting when it occurred. The man is believed to be innocent, and the boy's identification purely an accident. One strange feature is that last Thursday the boy tried to buy cartridges and failed, and then tried to getothers to buy them for him. It is not known whether he succeeded The boy said he wanted the cartridges to shoot rats.

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

Son of Vincennes's Chief of Police Nearly Kills Two Men and Then Escapes.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VINCENNES, Ind., May 22. - Louis Johnston, a special policeman, assaulted William Shockley and Garret J. Crow, stove molders, at an early hour this morning. Crow was knocked down with a club and did not recover consciousness for twelve hours. Shockley was shot through the arm and badly wounded. These men were quiet and inoffensive. Johnston concealed himself in the dark and sprang out on them unawares. He had a grudge against them because he once had a row with some other stove molders and was worsted. Lou Johnston is a son of Chief of Police Johnston, of this city. Here now a fugitive from justice. Crow and Shockley have each sued the city for $5,000 damages.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KNOX, Ind., May 22. - Ambrose Rude, aged thirty-eight, was drowned in the Kankakee river four miles north of San Pierre Saturday night. His body was recovered yesterday evening. He was fishing with John Eckert when the boat capsized in six feet of water. He was caught by the hooks of a trent line and held under water. The coroner held the inquest to-day. The body shows bruises on the forehead, nose and over one eye as if from blows. Rude's wife claims he had two pocketbooks containing money, but none was found in his pockets when his body was recovered. Some suspect foul play. Rude moved to this county from near Frankfort two years ago.

RICHMOND, Ind., May 22.-Last night about 10 o'clock, in the Pennsylvania gards here, train No. 81 pulled out for Indianapolis, and near Fort Wayne avenue crossing pulled in two. The train had gotten across the bridge over Whitewater before the engipeer missed the rear part. The track where the break occurred is down grade and the rear section had by this time gained considerable momentum. The two sections met on the bridge, and two cars were derailed and thrown into the river. O. T. Hires, of Indianapolis, a brakeman, was on the front car of the rear section and pitched nearly one hunared feet. His injuries are reported as only slight, and he was able to return home this morning.

CHARGES AGAINST MATRON JONES. Keeper of the Wabash County Orphans Home Demands an Investigation.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., May 22.-Mrs. Ora Jones, matron of the Wabash County Orphans Home, has resigned owing to dissatisfaction with ber management of the institution for the past three years. It is charged that she bought supplies very extravagantly, and that she did not give the children of whom there are forty, enough to eat. Mrs. Jones indignantly denies the charges, and has made an appeal to the County Commissioners, asking that she be retained, and saving that she was forced out of the position because members of the board of management wished to provide a place for a friend. It is asserted by one of the woman members of the board that one morning in February the inmates of the home were given only bread and water for breakfast. There promises to be an interesting fight when the matter comes up before the commissioners.

Strenuous Efforts of American Parents in Behaif of Their Offspring. New York Times.

"I have come to the conclusion." remarked a man the other day, "that the shibboleth of most Americans is the children. 'I've been in the house all winter, and now I'm trying to arrange my affairs to go away for a couple of years, not to do a streke of work or think even if I can help it in that time. It's my my family. My oldest boy is a freshman, but will have to give up his college course, and my girls, who are at fine private schools, will have to finish at the public high schools. We've rented our house and taken a flat, and put everything on a close margin in order that I may take this respite. Restful Sleep. Ladies' Home Journal.

Concerning sleep, in connection with sickness, there is a good deal of heresy regarding the matter among otherwise wellinformed people. "Don't let her sleep too long!" "Be sure to wake him when it is time to give the medicine; it will be a great deal better for him not to sleep too long at one time!" How often we have heard these words, or words to that effect, when, in fact, in nine cases out of ten, and very likely in ninety-nine out of the hundred, they were the exact opposite of the truth. Gentle, restful sleep is better than any medicine, and how often, even how almost invariably, does the "change for the better" for which anxious friends are waiting so prayerfully, come during sleep-making its first manifestation when the patient awakes with brightened eye, stronger voice, a faint tinge of returning health mantling the features, in place of the wan hue of threatening death! In the words of Sancho Panza, we may well say, "Blessed be the man who invented sleep!" There are, of course, critical situations in which a | course in 1 hour, 13 minutes and 55 2/5 sectroubled, imperfect sleep may properly be broken to administer medicines; but in these later days physicians, quite generally, give the caution that in case of restful last marrige she has often asserted that | sleep the patient is not to be awakened for | entire top cut off, leaving only a stock fifeen to eighteen inches above the roots. Have all broken or bruised pieces cut off. When thus trimmed plant in good mellow soil, about two inches deeper than it had been when growing in nursery rows. When growth begins, sprouts will come out all along up the body. All of these should be rubbed off, except three or four near the top that must be allowed to grow to form the main branches of the future tree. By proper selection of sprouts to reserve, the trees may be formed of any desired form of head. These new branhoes will grow from three to five feet the first season and make a much stronger and better formed tree than could have been possible had not the top

Time at Which Woman's Charms and Graces Prove Most Attractive.

The physical beauty of women should last until they are past fifty. Nor does beauty reach its zenith under the age of thirty-five or forty. Helen of Troy comes upon the stage at the age of forty. Aspasia was thirty-six when married to Pericles, and she was a brilliant figure thirty years thereafter. Cleopatra was past thirty when she met Antony. Diane de Poictiers was thirty-six when she won the heart of Henry II. The king was half her age, but his devotion never changed. Anne of Austria was thirty-eight when described as the most beautiful woman in Europe, Mme. De Maintenon was forty-three when united to Louis, and Catherine of Russia thirty-three when she seized the throne she occupied for thirty-five years. Mile, Mar was most beautiful at forty-five, and Mme Recamier between the ages of thirty-five and tifty-five. The most lasting and intense passion is not inspired by two decade beauties. The old saw about sweet sixteen is exploded by est beauty does not dwell in immaturity. For beauty does not mean alone the fashion of form and coloring as found in the waxen doll. The dew of youth and a complexion of roses sometimes combine in a face that is unmoving and unresponsive, as though lacking utterly the life sparkle. A woman's best and richest years are from twenty-six to forty. It is arrant error for any woman to regard herself as passee at an earlier

In the course of years, however, a time arrives when the coming of age must be recognized, when the muscles begin to relax, the skin to lose its polish and roundness and softness give place to angles. Contentment and good humor will still outrival all medical inventions as a servative of youth. A woman, beautiful in all else, but wanting mirth will grow old, sour, thin and sallow, while the merry, funloving woman will be fresh and sweet, despite life's happenings and sorrows.

TRAINING OF EMPERORS.

How the German Princes Study and Exer-Every day in summer, as well as winter, the princes rise at 7 o'clock and take breakfast, consisting of tea and rolls, three-quarters of an hour later. Never more than fifteen minutes are allowed for this meal. Punctually at 8 o'clock lessons begin. The princes are generally instructed separately, but in some branches the two older brothers are instructed together. Crown Prince William is very diligent and far ahead of the others in most of his At 9:45 a lunch is served of sandwiches, red wine and "Fuerstenbrunner" mineral water, now generally used at the Emperor's table. After lunch studies are resumed for a short time, followed by riding lessons, If the weather permits these are taken in the open air; otherwise a manege, erected expressly for the purpose, serves for their equestrian exercises. The little Crown Prince rides his white horse Abdul, a birthday gift from his father. Sometimes a drive in a pony carriage takes the place of the ride. This vehicle is drawn by a white pony, whose harness is hung with silver bells. The princes dine with Major Von Falkenhayn, or their tutor, Herr Kessler, at 1:15 o'clock. Soup, fish, a roast, potatoes and ether vegetables, dessert, cheese and fruit form the bill of fare. About 2:30 o'clock the boys go into the park to play. Generally on these occasions the Crown Prince may be seen on a tricycle, which also was a birthday gift from his father. While the Emperor and Empress were at the Marble Palace, at Potsdam, the prince walked or drove over there at 4 o'clock every day to see their parents and younger brothers, and returned home at 6 o'clock, after having taken some milk and rolls. Upon their arrival supper was served-on alternate days warm and cold. Till 8 o'clock the princes romp about; then they are bathed and go to bed. So one day passes like another. On Sunday morning there is service in the palace, or the prince
